TELESCOPE CASUAL FURNITURE LAUNCHES 2010 SOLID SURFACE ACRYLIC TABLES Recycled Acrylic Content—Eco-Friendly and Easy To Clean

Granville, New York, May 17, 2010— Telescope Casual Furniture, the leading manufacturer and marketer of outdoor furniture is launching a new line of Solid Surface Acrylic Table Tops for the 2010 Season.

Certified Green by Scientific Certification Systems (SCS), these tabletops are manufactured with with a minimum of 72% Pre-consumer Recycled Acrylic Content. Pre-consumer recycled acrylic content means that the material used is diverted from the waste stream during the manufacturing process. Remnant pieces of solid surface are hammer-milled into granules and used in a mix to make a new product. These remnants would be destined for the landfill had Telescope not recycled them.

“Telescope’s Solid Surface Acrylic tables are the best alternative table tops to hit the market this year. People are certainly interested in green products but are still value-driven,” says Petey Fleischut, owner of Casual Marketplace of Hockessin, Delaware, a Telescope retailer. “This table provides the perfect balance of simplicity, eco-friendliness, and value. Our customers love that they can get the smooth look of granite for a fraction of the price without compromising quality.”

Solid Surface imitates stone surface and is incredibly smooth to the touch. Perfect for both home and contract applications, this nonporous material cleans easily and stains don’t penetrate the surface. The new Solid Surface Acrylic tables are available in 13 sizes and 6 colors, adding to Telescope’s already extensive table selection. Telescope Casual provides 15-year residential and 5-year contract warranties.
